

God promised Abraham more children than stars in the sky.